WORK EXPERIENCE

10-2016 – Present

Junior researcher/consultant at CE Delft

- I work as a junior researcher/consultant at the supply chain assessment department of the non-profit sustainability research and consulting firm CE Delft. I have contributed to various projects that often involve an assessment of resource and energy use throughout a product or service's life cycle. In addition to carrying out, documenting and presenting such LCA's, I work on several interdisciplinary research and consulting projects such as: an environmental impact assessment of different chemical recycling technologies; a study on the role of bioplastics in a circular economy; an environmental evaluation of Carbon Capture and Utilization (CCU) routes.
